GM Asks Cost Of Living Plan Change In Pact

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has served notice on the United Auto Workers that it wants changes in the cost-of-living formula in any new contract with the union.

The statement came Thursday when the company laid its 1967 bargaining demands on the negotiating table.

"The present cost-of-living arrangement has come to be taken for granted as extra increases over the above those provided for the vast majority of the nation's work force," the company said.

Current three-year pacts covering some 750,000 auto workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler expire Sept. 6.

8 Cents In 3 Years

Since 1964 UAW members have gained some 18 cents in hourly wage increases under the cost-of-living allowance, which adds or subtracts a penny an hour quarterly for each .4 of a point movement in the Bureau of Labor Statistics consumer price index. The average auto worker earns $3.41 hourly according to bureau figures.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, has insisted there can be no tampering with the cost-of-living plan, and has indicated that any attempt to alter the plan could provoke a strike.

Bars Tampering

Walter P. Reuther, UAW president, has insisted there can be no tampering with the cost-of-living plan, and has indicated, without saying so directly, that any attempt to alter the plan could provoke a strike.

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president for personnel, said Thursday the company will propose modification of the formula, "as we did in 1961 and 1964." In neither year was the company successful.

Seaton said the formula "is a matter for collective bargaining, not a unilateral matter as Mr. Reuther apparently wants it to be." Asked what changes GM will seek, Seaton said, "That's something we want to take up with the union."

Coverage Small

Seaton said that only three million out of 72 million workers in the nation are covered by cost-of-living provisions. Big pay boosts won by other unions in new contracts merely bring them up to pay levels already reached by the UAW autoworkers through the cost-of-living plan, Seaton argued.

Seaton said the quarterly adjustment "is pretty fast." He said that some contracts provide only for an annual adjustment and some have a maximum limit.

He indicated that GM would like both a maximum limit and an annual adjustment.

"I'm quite certain that would be tampering," said Ernest Moran, administrative assistant to Leonard Woodcock, union vice president and chief of the UAW's GM department.

Surtax Reaction Is Mostly Chilly

How Surtaxes Would Bite You

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here's a breakdown of the tax hike package sent to Congress Thursday by President Johnson:

Individual Income Taxes — A 10-per cent surcharge effective Oct. 1 of this year. This would mean a person who currently would pay $500 in income taxes would have to pay $550 over the course of a full year — or $512.50 this year, since the surcharge would be in effect only the final quarter. Unaffected would be some 16 million persons in the lowest income brackets.

Corporate Income Taxes — A 10-per cent surtax effective last July 1. Speed up corporate tax collections.

Automobile Taxes — Continue the 7 per cent manufacturer's excise tax on autos to July 1, 1969. It was scheduled to drop to 2 per cent next April 1 and to 1 per cent on Jan. 1, 1969. Under the proposal it wouldn't dip to 1 per cent until Jan. 1, 1970.

Telephone Excise Taxes — Postpone until July 1, 1969, the cut in telephone excise taxes from 10 per cent to 1 per cent. It was scheduled for April 1. Postpone for one year the scheduled elimination of the tax.

Anticipated Results — A $6.3-billion increase income tax revenues for the fiscal year ending next June 31; excise tax postponements would salvage $300 million otherwise lost; and the corporate speedup will net $800 million.

Some Demos Join GOP Fight On Income Levy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional reaction to President Johnson's call for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge generally ranges from lukewarm to chilly, with few members except some Democratic leaders offering unqualified support.

Some other Democrats joined in the expected Republican opposition to the long-awaited tax hike request. Chairman William Proxmire, D—Wis., of the Senate—House Economic Committee called it a blunder that would hamper business growth and thus generate little new revenue.

And Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said only: "I'm uncommitted; committed to no one, one way or the other."

Hearings Set

Mills, who ranks as perhaps the foremost tax expert in Congress, has remained noncommittal since Johnson first proposed a surcharge on personal and corporate income taxes last January. At that time Johnson urged a 6 per cent surtax.

But the Arkansas Democrat revised the Ways and Means Committee's schedule to provide at least two weeks of hearings beginning Aug. 14. The hearings will be interrupted Aug. 17 and 18 when the House is scheduled to consider Johnson's bill to increase Social Security benefits and taxes.

Not By Oct. 1

Almost to a man, members who discussed the proposals Johnson sent to Congress Thursday agreed that if a tax hike is enacted at all, it won't be by Oct. 1—the date the President asked the surcharge on individual income taxes to start.

And veteran members of the Ways and Means Committee said it never has been willing to make retroactive a tax increase on individuals. Johnson asked the matching 10 per cent increase on corporate income taxes be made retroactive to July 1.

A later date for both seemed likely, if there are to be increases, perhaps Oct. 1 for the corporate tax, the first of next year for the individual.

More Troops

Johnson's linking of the tax boost request with Vietnam costs and plans to dispatch 45,090 more troops there did not sit well with some members.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said, "The President's message is a confession of failure of his so-called 'guns and butter' economic policy."

Noting Johnson's warning that the budget deficit for the current year could reach $29 billion without the tax boost and ti-

Detroit Police Too Late With Force: Spiegel

DETROIT (AP)—A researcher at Brandeis University said Thursday that he believes the Detroit police allowed the riot to flare out of control by using too little force in early stages.

Dr. John P. Spiegel, director of the Lemberg Center for the Study of Violence, also said there are indications that the police could have avoided the incident that triggered the outbreak of rioting.

The riot began July 23 after police raided an after-hours drinking establishment on the near West Side and arrested 83 persons.

"Prudence would say that you should not have conducted such a raid," Spiegel said. "Or if you did, that you should have had enough backup forces to take care of what might follow.

Spiegel, a social psychologist, heads a team of 12 researchers who have been studying riots on a $294,000 federal grant. The results of their study will be made available to the President's Commission on Civil Disorders.

Debate Continues

As the streets of Detroit remained calm, the heated political debate over actions taken during the riot continued Thursday. Cyrus Vance, President Johnson's representative in Detroit during the disorder said there were no politics involved in decisions to send federal troops into the ravaged city.

Vance said his decision to send the troops into the streets was "based on my own best, honest judgment of the situation as it stood."

Gov. George Romney has charged President Johnson and his administration with playing politics in the events leading to the deployment of 4,700 paratroopers.

There was a delay of more than eight hours between the time the troops arrived at Selfridge Air Force Base, 20 miles northeast of the city, on July 24, and the time they were sent into the streets, early in the morning of the 25th.

Claim Brutality

Investigating agencies report they have received more than 200 complaints of police brutality during the rioting. Several agencies, including the Michigan Civil Rights Commission and the American Civil Liberties Union are investigating the charges.

Detroit police officials said 80 of their men were injured during the riot. One, Patrolman James Olshove, was killed. The wounds included 10 by gunshot, 29 by bricks, bottles or other missiles, one dog bite, and two bites by humans.

Vietnam Buildup To Boost Draft Callup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher draft calls and a possible $2-billion supplemental defense budget request are likely as a result of President Johnson's ordered troop increase for Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The President announced Thursday that 45,000 to 50,000 more men will be deployed to the war zone in response to recommendations of top defense and military officials.

At the same time, he said, there is a possibility that because of increased military spending, defense expenditures for fiscal 1963 may exceed the $73 billion budget by up to $4 billion.

Exactly how high draft calls will go now is being determined in a Pentagon study of what the newly authorized 525,000-man level for Vietnam next summer will do to over-all U.S. military strength.

Over 35,000 Monthly

Announced draft calls for the five months extending through September have risen to an average of about 23,000 a month. This reflects, in part, the Pentagon's move to meet its 1968-approved Vietnam manpower ceiling of 480,000.

Sources said draft calls during the last quarter of this year likely will exceed 35,000 a month.

As for spending, sources say Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara believes $2 billion in planned spending can be trimmed from the defense budget to offset partially the possible $4-billion overrun mentioned by the President.

The $2-billion difference would have to be covered by a supplemental budget request early next year, sources said.

The administration also had to get a $12-billion defense supplement for fiscal 1967, but the 1968 budget was supposed to cover all anticipated war spending as well as meet other military needs.

Cut Aircraft Buying

The President said McNamara had been ordered to "conduct a searching review of all defense expenditures and to withhold all such expenditures that are not now essential for national security."

Defense officials already are in the process of cutting back on fighter aircraft purchases. They say this is possible because of a lower - than - expected rate of losses over North Vietnam.

The level of U.S. forces in Vietnam now stands officially at 454,000 after a 7,000-man "statistical adjustment" by the Pentagon Thursday.

The Pentagon said most of the 45,000 new troops will be Army. Sources said there will also be a certain number of Air Force and Navy units, mainly combat support elements.

No Reserve callup is expected, the Pentagon said.

Yank Fliers Hit 72 Red Barges

SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes hammered North Vietnam with 197 strike missions Thursday, 22 more than were ever flown in a single day during the 2½ years of bombing the Communist North, the U. S. Command said today.

U. S. headquarters also announced that 635 combat planes have been lost over North Vietnam, including an Air Force F105 Thunderchief downed by ground fire Thursday and four losses not previously disclosed.

The ground war continued in one of its periodic lulls and two major operations ended.

One was the massive sweep by an estimated 10,000 U. S. and South Vietnamese troops in the Mekong Delta 45 miles south of Saigon, the biggest allied operation staged so far in the delta.

In the same delta area, South Vietnamese troops reported killing the commander of a hard-core Viet Cong battalion and capturing his assistant.

The air attacks Thursday ranged from deep in North Vietnam's heartland to the country's southern panhandle.

Navy pilots reported destroying or damaging 72 supply boats or barges along the coast. Other Navy fliers reported setting off a secondary explosion among a cluster of buildings at the Quang Nap storage area three miles southwest of Thanh Hoa, in the panhandle. The pilots said dense smoke towered up 5,000 feet.

Navy pilots also reported damaging railroad facilities at the Dong Khe railroad siding 28 miles northwest of Vinh and the Ly Nhan siding 27 miles northeast of Thanh Hoa.

Rifle Fire Rips Jordan Calm For 4th Day In Row

TEL AVIV (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli soldiers exchanged rifle fire across the Jordan River near Jericho for the fourth successive day today, the Israeli army reported.

Israeli newspapers said Israel has warned Jordan it will take "strong action" if the shooting incidents continue.

The Israeli army said Jordanian riflemen opened fire briefly in midmorning on Israeli soldiers who shot back. No casualties were reported.

The shooting has been in the Damia Bridge area, about 15 miles north of the Allenby Bridge used by thousands of Arab refugees who crossed out of Israeli-held territory after the Arab-Israeli war June 5-10.

Reuther Urges Pension Boost

DETROIT (AP)—Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, said Thursday the social security bill approved by a House committee "fails in every way to meet the needs of the American people."

The House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill Wednesday calling for a 12.5 per cent increase in benefits.

Reuther said this was below the 20 per cent boost recommended by President Johnson, which in itself Reuther called insufficient.

He urged the Senate to take strong action to increase the benefits substantially, if the House approves the bill in its present form.

Probe Of Hate School Asked By Sen. Scott

WASHINGTON (AP) — While a Republican senator asks whether the Office of Economic Opportunity is "subsidizing rioters" with federal funds, the antipoverty agency is moving to investigate a Nashville, Tenn., summer school accused of teaching Negro children to hate white people.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R—Pa., said he accepts testimony of Nashville Police Capt. John A. Sorace that antipoverty funds are involved in financing of the school.

The OEO denied any of its funds had gone to the school—but it acknowledged a contract had been signed between the school and the Nashville agency administering antipoverty programs there.

Calls Story Accurate

Sorace insisted his information is accurate, but he told the Senate Judiciary Committee Thursday it came from a police informant who could not be publicly identified.

Sorace said OEO funds are being funneled into a summer school directed by Fred Brooks, Nashville chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. He charged leaders of that organization incited racial violence in Nashville last April.

The OEO, quickly denied Brooks is on the payroll, saying his name had been submitted but not approved. In Nashville, Brooks, 20, said whether the school teaches hatred of whites "all depends on your interpretation."

Whites Are Barred

He told a newsman: "We teach the historical fact that whites came to Africa and viciously enslaved many of the great African people. If the history of the Negroes' past leads them to hate white people, that's not our responsibility."

He said no white man would be allowed to sit in on the classes.

But OEO said the contract between St. Anselms Episcopal chapel and Nashville's Metropolitan Action Commission prohibited segregation of classes.

Sorace's charge could pose a new peril for President Johnson's $2-billion poverty-fighting bill, now awaiting Senate committee action.

Trouble already looms in both the Senate and the House for the Johnson antipoverty program.

OEO Director Sargent Shriver already has come to Capitol Hill to deny charges that antipoverty workers were involved in rioting in Newark N.J.

Farm Prices Up

LANSING (AP)—The index of prices received by Michigan farmers in mid-July was 258 per cent of the 1910-14 average, three points above the mid-June level.

The Michigan Crop Reporting Service said price increases for beans, tart cherries, meat animals, wholesale milk and eggs more than offset decreases for wheat and corn.

Beria Dominated Stalin: Svetlana

LONDON (AP) — Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, claims in her memoirs that Lavrenty P. Beria, Soviet Secret police chief, dominated her father for the last 20 years of his life.

Mrs. Alliluyeva claims that Beria became the dominating influence over her father after he was rocked by her mother's suicide in 1932 and maintained that influence until the dictator died in his country home outside Moscow in 1953.

Beria, "always repulsive," brooded over Stalin at the end, posing as "the most loyal, the most faithful," while the aged dictator died in agony after a cerebral hemorrhage, Mrs. Alliluyeva writes.

Issued In Russian

Hutchinson & Co., Mrs. Alliluyeva's authorized British publisher, issued a Russian-language edition of her memoirs, "Twenty Letters to a Friend," on Thursday. The English-language edition is to appear in October.

The day after Stalin's death, his daughter writes, Beria summarily dismissed and exiled aides and members of the household staff, but not before some of them committed suicide in the hysteria following the death.

Beria was jailed on treason charges by Stalin's successors and put to death nine months after the dictator's death. Nikita S. Khrushchev, in the recent NBC television program "Khrushchev in Exile," also blamed Beria for Stalin's misdeeds.

Feared Death Plot

The book largely sidesteps politics and concentrates on the writer's life with her father.

Mrs. Alliluyeva said her father believed there was a doctors' plot against him and permitted no physicians in his home for several months before he died. He took pills and iodide occasionally, she wrote, and the day before his fatal stroke took a steam bath, which the author said a doctor would never have permitted.

When the end approached, she said, frantic efforts were made to save the old man. Leeches were put to his head and neck and he was given cardiograms, X rays and continuous injections.

Riot Fear Curb Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., called today for immediate congressional action to assure the public that steps are being taken "to protect our cities from the flames, the snipers and the looting."

In a speech for the Senate, Hart said the public is frightened — afraid that the government which it has traditionally entrusted with its well-being can no longer do the job.

"This fear must be stilled," he said. "If not, we will become a nation of vigilantes on every corner and shotguns in every living room:

"Congress must move, and swiftly, before the United States writes the most infamous chapter in its history," Hart said.

"Congress today is already at work trying to determine the causes of the riots. Good. Anything less would be fool-hardy. But, correcting the causes will take time and is an impossible task when our cities are burning."

Hart said that two measures before Congress, the President's safe streets and crime control bill, and a bill sponsored by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., for riot prevention and control, should get immediate attention.

SEN. PHILIP A. HART, D-Mich., left, confers with Chairman James O. Eastland of the Senate Judiciary Committee before a hearing on the House-approved antiriot bill. Hart said the bill and 97 more would not have prevented the violence that rocked Detroit. Eastland said the committee must learn "what incitements have led to riot situations." (AP Wirephoto)

Propose Highway Finance Act For Special Session

LANSING (AP)—The regular session of the 1967 Michigan Legislature passed into history Thursday with the final gavel drowning out immediate hope for passage of a $60 million gasoline and license plate tax boost.

Despite a last-minute push, the lawmakers adjourned their six-month session as scheduled, without approving the so-called "good roads package" designed to meet increased road building and maintenance costs.

But the bills' backers are expected to try to talk Gov. George Romney into placing the package on the calendar for the special session he has ordered for Oct. 10 to consider court organization and extra money for civil rights efforts.

Taxingest Legislature

Some lawmakers, mostly Democrats, have labeled the 1967 Legislature, which approved the state's first income tax, as "the taxingest legislature in Michigan's history."

Others prefer to describe the Legislature, where Republicans hold a slim margin in both houses, as one devoted to "taxes, fees and regulations."

The GOP leadership has described the Legislature as one which has met its responsibilities and provided the means—the new income tax — to meet the state's increased financial needs.

House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, described it as "a legislature with backbone."

Takes Backbone

"It takes a lot of backbone to pass a program of this magnitude," he said, describing the six-month meeting as "a fabulously successful session."

He pointed out that the adjournment was only a little more than a month over the original June 29 adjournment date.

Democrats are fond of noting that in addition to approving a 2.6 per cent personal income tax, 5.6 per cent corporate tax and 7 per cent tax on financial institutions, the lawmakers boosted fishing license, park entrance and marriage license fees.

Romney Praise

The income tax, expected to raise $239 million in a one-year period, takes effect Oct. 1.

The House approved a three-cent per package increase in the cigarette tax, but the Senate rejected the measure on grounds that it should be held for future emergencies.

In a rare move, Romney strode into both houses in the closing minutes and addressed the lawmakers from the floor, congratulating them for "being a responsible legislature."

Romney urged legislators to think about "the terrible tragedy" of last week's Detroit riots and consider ways to finance rebuilding of the damaged areas and prevent a repetition of rioting.

Romney has addressed the Legislature from the rostrum often during his five years in office, but never from the floor.

Briefly Told

William J. Rowley, 18, of Escanaba Rte. 1, arrested for malicious damage to a police car, pleaded guilty to the charge in Municipal Court on Wednesday. He was charged with ripping a stop light off the hood and letting air out of one tire of a parked patrol car on May 21. Rowley must pay $105 fine and costs or go to jail for 45 days, and make restitution to the city of $52.25 or spend an additional 30 days in jail.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court summons to Chester A. Anderson, Wells, for speeding.

James Dallhope, 20, of Peshtigo, must pay a total of $85 in fines and costs for being a minor in possession of beer and for resisting arrest. He was arraigned today in Municipal Court after his arrest in the north alley in the 700 block, Ludington St., at 1:30 a. m. Dallhope must also post bond for $100 to cover the cost of repairs to an officer's watch, which was broken in subduing the youth.

Passenger traffic at the Escanaba municipal airport totaled 1,477 persons in July, it is reported by Jon Thorin, airport manager. There were 88 transients as well.

Army Reserve and National Guard officers have the opportunity tonight to enroll in the Officer Career Course that will start here this fall. Interested personnel are asked to contact Major James H. Kent between 7 and 9 tonight at the U. S. Army Recruiting Station, 902 Ludington St.

Soo Bridge Has Slight Increase

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)--July traffic on the International Bridge was only one per cent above the volume for the same month last year.

The International Bridge Authority said 139,906 vehicles crossed the span during the month. Revenues for July were $168,104, three per cent above July of 1966.

Cool weather during the month and the Detroit riots were blamed for a less-than-anticipated increase in traffic.

City Asked To Help County's Old Folks

"I really feel sorry for them," said Al Dagenais, 1410 N. 20th St., Escanaba businessman, in appealing to the Escanaba City Council last night for help for the old folks at the Delta Nursing Home.

There are 35 patients in the county-owned home which is to be closed by Sept. 1.

"Here in the city we have built through project pride a Chamber of Commerce office and the Kennedy School for retarded children," Dagenais said.

"I was hoping we might get something rolling to help the old people out at the nursing home. I would sure like to see those old people have a place."

County Project?

The Nursing Home, which the county leases for operation, is to be closed because it does not meet state standards for safety. The building was constructed in 1907. To this time no announcement has been made concerning arrangements for future housing and care of the patients, a number of whom are bed-ridden.

Escanaba Councilman Ed Cox, presiding at the Council session in the absence of Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe, told Dagenais that the Delta County "Board of Supervisors is thinking of proposals."

The condition of the Nursing Home building is a factor in the discussions, Cox added.

Councilman H. George Nelson said he thought the repair of the old building or construction of a new facility "should be a county project."He agreed that something should be done and that the Council should "go ahead and push it."

Seek Answers

Council Cecil Chase suggested that City Manager George Harvey contact Charles Sedenquist, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, with an inquiry on "what the county has in mind."

Councilman Cox reported that he had attended a planning committee meeting about a week ago and the Nursing Home problem was discussed at that time. He said that Chairman Sedenquist is "very conscientious" and that he will probably have a statement on the situation.

All of the members of the Escanaba City Council are also members of the County Board of Supervisors.

The City Council in other business provided for establishment of a compensation plan for the new position of police detective in the city department at a salary of $6,750 annually. One of the city patrolmen will receve the classification, based on competitive examination. It does not mean the hiring of an additional officer, it was explained.

DeHaan Appointed

C. Gust Peterson, Escanaba businessman, resigned from the Housing Commission because of a possible conflict of interest, and William DeHaan was appointed to fill the vacancy.

An ordinance designed to stop swimming in the yacht basin and harbors and channels where there is danger to the swimmers is to be drafted for presentation to the Council, City Manager Harvey advised.

Herman Caron of 1617 N. 19th St. appeared before the Council to complain about a drainage problem, and the manager will investigate.

The Council's consideration of the purchase or optioning of certain properties in the proposed downtown parking lot area was tabled until the next meeting. Mayor Vanlerberghe and Councilman George Rusch were absent from last night's meeting.

Report Progress

City Manager Harvey advised the Council that merchants have so far pledged or committed 88 per cent of the $55,000 which is to represent their share of the cost of the proposed parking lot project.

Low bids, subject to department and manager approval, were okayed by the Council for:

Aluminum sulphate for water treatment, $1,209, Hawkins Chemical Inc., Minneapolis, lowest of four bids; for gasoline, Standard Oil Co. 12.30 cents for regular and Sinclair 13.66 cents for premium, lowest of five bids; utility poles, $2,040, International Paper Co., lowest of 13 bids; electric transformers, Rahr Supplies, Manitowoc, $4,830, lowest of 12 bids.

The date of Aug. 17 was set for the hearing of assessments on the Danforth Road water main extension.

Mrs. Nelson Medalist In Essay Contest

Mrs. Elmer Nelson of Cornell missed a cash award and notice by a narrow margin recently, when she received an engraved medal for her entry in the American Security Competition. Besides the five cash awards, there were four honorary awards and 1000 medals.

To compete it was necessary to write on the topic, "The Business Gap in the Cold War."

All manuscripts were copied for the use of the judges and each paper was judged by number.

Top winner of $25,000 was Dr. James P. Lucier, a native of Detroit, graduate of the University of Michigan, journalist and TV writer. He is research assistant to U.S. Senator Strom Thurmond. He named the University of Plano for a matching award.

Norway Racing Receipts Lost

NORWAY — Michigan State Police from the Iron Mountain post are probing the loss, or possible theft of $1,554 from the management of the Upper Peninsula Racing Association. The sum represented receipts from the race Sunday evening at the Dickinson County fairgrounds in Norway.

State Police said Rene Lippens of the racihg association reported the loss. He said, according to troopers, that the money was in a green, zippered bag, which was inside a paper bag. Lippens, of Escanaba, added that the bag probably was dropped while he was carrying it from the box office to his car.

Troopers asked that anyone having any information concerning the money is to contact them or the U.P. Racing Promoters at 120 North 22nd. St., Escanaba.

Injured Youth At Ann Arbor

Mark Olson, 15, who suffered a paralyzing neck injury while diving at the Escanaba beach on June 22, in now in University Hospital at Ann Arbor and would like to hear from his friends.

"He would appreciate getting mail," said his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Olson of 627 S. 17th St.

His address is Rehabilitation Unit, Bed 4, University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mark was flown to Ann Arbor from Green Bay on Thursday, after he had been in St. Vincent's Hospital at Green Bay since soon after the accident.

"He can now move his arms but as yet he cannot grasp anything," said Mark's father. "In Ann Arbor he found the boy in the bed next to him had a similar accident about a week before, and Mark is encouraged to greater effort in trying to grasp things, as that boy can do now."

While he was hospitalized in Green Bay, Mark was visited by and received autographs from Bart Starr, Jerry Kramer and Don Chandler of the Green Bay Packers world championship football team.

The boy was injured at the Escanaba Municipal Beach while he was diving from one of the life guard stands.

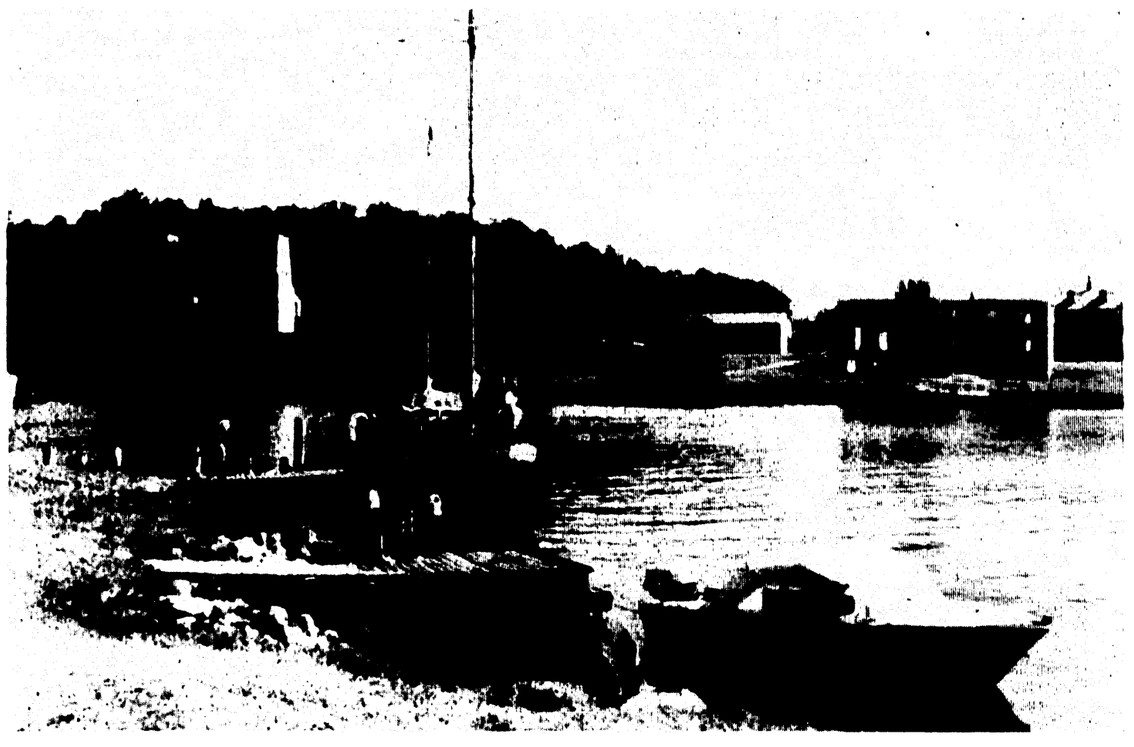
Fayette: Pig Iron To Pellets



A CENTURY AGO Fayette Harbor was busy with a different type of marine traffic. Then it was schooners hauling barges filled with iron ore brought from Escanaba, and other sailing craft bringing supplies and workmen to the new town on the Garden Peninsula, which the Jackson Iron Co. founded as a charcoal iron smelting center. Now 100 years later pellets have replaced the pig iron and the pleasure yachts find Fayette State Park harbor a snug place to tie up for a week or a weekend. Most of the visitors arrive by car, however, and last year the park attendance totaled 66,000. In its hey-day Fayette had a population of about 500. A number of the old buildings have been restored as museums, and one dwelling has been fitted out with furnishings that were once in the old Elliott home near Fayette. Fayette State Park is observing the "ghost town's" centennial with special souvenir programs and mementoes to visitors all next week.

State Curb On Gill Net Asked

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department is asking for rigid restrictions on commercial gill net fishing in lakes Michigan and Superior, contending the trout and salmon catch is "intolerably high."

The fish division recommendations will be presented to the State Conservation Commission next Friday.

Commercial taking of trout and salmon currently is forbidden but they are taken during fishing for other species.

Any new commercial fishing regulations must be aired at public hearings and reviewed before final commission action. Any restrictions would not be expected to go into effect until Feb. 15 in Lake Michigan and April 1 in Lake Superior.

The only gill net commercial operations allowed in the two lakes would be for research purposes and for the taking of chubs on lake bottoms.

The department said it hopes to extend the regulations to Lake Huron in 1969 or 1970.

Northern Offers Summer Courses

MARQUETTE — Ten workshops in seven fields will be conducted at Northern Michigan University during the summer school post-session, Aug. 14-25.

Held in conjunction with post session classes, which have the equivalent of two semester hours of credit, will be the 21st annual coaching school, Aug. 10-12; NMU's 17th annual summer music camp, Aug. 12-19, and the sixth annual high school debate workshop, Aug. 13-25.

Riots Reduce Bridge Income

ST. IGNACE — Street riots in the cities and inclement weather were responsible for a drop in Mackinac Bridge traffic and revenues for July compared with a year ago according to Prentiss M. Brown, Mackinac Bridge Authority chairman.

"During the first 25 days of July there was a less than 1 per cent drop in traffic compared with last year. I am certain that this slight drop was due to below average temperatures and above average precipitation. But when the disturbances broke out in the cities from where Mackinac Bridge traffic largely comes, we experienced a sharp decline. During the last seven days of July there were declines runing from 800 to 1,200 less vehicles per day," said Brown.

Despite the decline in traffic during the last week of the month, July was off only 3.2 per cent from 299,374 vehicles last year to 289,745 vehicles this past July, a drop of 9,629. Revenues were down 3 per cent from $1,281,704 last year to $1,242,741 this year.

Our Nursing Homes

The Press has published several letters from persons in the Delta County Nursing Home protesting the projected closing of that institution. These are letters written in despair by elderly persons full of the fears of advanced age and of a society which, while it has made more provisions for its elderly than any other anywhere, has acquired an inevitable institutionalism in the process. Many of these elderly are without families and lack the security that family ties bring.

When the federal government accepted the Social Security concept of government responsibility for the welfare of everyone it proceeded to close the county infirmaries that housed the indigent elderly. In the last century such institutions were called "poor houses." The name is happily out of usage now and we have a more humane and responsible public attitude toward this need, more in conformity with the means of our affluent society.

* * *

The federal, state and county governments provided the means by which former infirmary-type patients could maintain themselves in private nursing homes. So Delta County closed its infirmary and leased the building to Mrs. Delia Peterson, who operates it as a private nursing home. She has done an outstanding job of it and she deserves the public commendation that she is getting from patients and public welfare administrators.

But the State Department of Public Health has forced evacuation of some second floor patients and is planning closing of the entire home unless some substantial changes are made to meet safety requirements. Delta County still owns the building and isn't minded to make them; it would be investment in the wrong place.

* * *

Delta County Board of Supervisors Chairman Charles Sedenquist said "As long as a private group is interested in providing a nursing home I think the county should stay out of the business. If that doesn't work, we'd have to raise millage (taxes on property) and build a nursing home.

"We should build a 100 bed institution at least to care for future need and that would cost over a million dollars, and the law would compel the county to build it near the hospital and that would mean that it would cost $2 million." (Because of the site cost.)

The private group interested in building a Medicenter near Doctors Park to serve the community's nursing home needs is the same group of three physicians and three dentists and a pharmacist who operate Doctors Park. Their organization is Willow Creek Corp. Doctors Park x-ray, pharmacy and other health facilities would qualify it for such needs, but it would need a barber.

* * *

Medicenters are planned by a twin venture of Holiday Inns Corp. and are supplied with a management service. About $75,000 of equity capital would be needed and the rest would be financed to provide the first 64-bed unit of a nursing home and Medicenter planned for later addition of 64 more beds. Cost of the first unit would be $450,000.

Representatives of Willow Creek Corp., Medicenters, Escanaba City Council and the Escanaba Industrial Foundation will meet on financing of the venture on Aug. 14.

A feasibility study questioned the statement of welfare officers who said that they could fill a Medicenter "tomorrow," set the prospective patient load at 50. Medicare patients would be on a cost-plus basis and Medicaid patients on a sliding scale from $16 to $14 to $12 a day depending upon the type of care needed. The service could provide a profit at an average of $14 a day payment per patient.

* * *

Sedenquist said that Delta County is endeavoring to send from the Delta Nursing Home to the Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers the patients who need medicare facilities, but the county has call on only a third of Pinecrest's 159 beds and only as they are vacated, at a very slow rate.

The closing of the Delta Nursing Home is unfortunate, but events seem to be shaping a good solution with accent on private provision of nursing home service.

Delta County has a responsibility for its elderly people and should be mindful that pushing them out of well-managed homes like that operated by Mrs. Peterson into small nursing home beds means that they go into situations over which the public has no control. Mrs. Peterson's home was under inspection and state standards, the little homes with three beds or less are unlicensed and uninspected.

* * *

A patient in such a home may be fortunate and get excellent care, but there's no official assurance of it. The operator, trying to make a profit, may not be conscious of the patient's diet needs, may not even see that a doctor is in attendance when needed. A practical nurse level of care isn't available in all such homes.

"They are springing up all over," said a welfare expert "and it seems silly when a good operator in a fair building is not allowed to continue."

Dial For Doctor!

Its' a small world . . . and getting smaller.

Medical personnel and facilities in New York, Aukland and Honolulu recently joined forces across 10,000 miles to play midwife to a pregnant Maori woman.

In anticipation of possible complications, a sample of the woman's blood, of a type doctors in New Zealand had never seen before, was sent to the New York Blood Center.

The sample arrived in New York at 10 o'clock in the morning. By 4 p. m. the center had searched its library of 10,000 deep-frozen reference bloods and had identified the type — one so rare that only nine other persons in the world are known to have it. A cable was sent to Aukland with names and addresses of potential donors, four of whom lived in Hawaii.

Or consider this experiment carried out between France and the United States a couple of weeks ago.

Electrocardigrams were taken on volunteers in Tours and transmitted by telephone and communications satellite to the United States, where they were relayed to Washington. There, a computer analyzed the heart readings and printed out an interpretation. The data was then transmitted back to Tours via the same route.

This summer of 1967 will go down in history as one when the Negro vented his frustrations on the nationwide basis. Newark and Phoenix, Watts and Chicago will long be remembered as little else than scars on the American conscience. So much has been written and yet so much left unsaid.

Our experience with the Negro this summer of 1967 is so totally different that it must be told. Since it is a combined effort of civic and church groups (Roman Catholic and Protestant) no one area is slighted or glorified in this project. It has to be noted that it is a 'brotherly' effort, a white - Negro - Puerto Rican, combination that makes "Friendly Town" a success.

"Friendly Town" is a project where volunteering families take one or two youths from Chicago's inner city for a two week period and are responsible for their transportation and maintenance. This is sponsored by the Chicago Missionary Society wth over 60 cooperating agencies.

We made Gladstone a friendly town for Edgar, Angela, Jorge, William, Homer and Andre this summer. All it required was understanding, patience and love, a total acceptance of them in our homes and community. To us, this seems the beginning of the understanding that can quench the racial prejudice and frustration that kindles the riots. Perhaps this is the way to put an end to senseless deaths and millions of dollars worth of property damage inflicted on innocent and guilty alike. What is needed is more "Friendly Towns."

Reflections from Wasa Wasa, on the Escanaba River

I have now sojourned in the semi-wilderness for 75 days, with brief forays into the cities, sometimes to perform pastoral duties. My impressions of conditions in our area have therefore had time to crystalize and some opinions have become convictions.

One of my impressions is that the white tail deer is a vanishing species in the Boney Falls area. A year ago we had three deer making their home in our meadow, this year we have one. So the Game Division is real successful in their effort to cut down the deer herd.

Trout fishing in the area below Boney Falls seems to be spotty. My intelligence sources tell me there have been a few good-sized trout taken. The brooks, which according to the fisheries experts should not live in the Escanaba River, seem to be coming back. I have taken some good-sized brookies. The small browns and rainbows, planted in the early summer, seem to be doing very well indeed. This may be due to the water level in the river, which has been consistently high all summer. Just now it has fallen, but not alarmingly.

I have run into two black bears, one a very large bear, another one somewhat smaller. We also have one black squirrel, which, of course, isn't a true black, but a mutation of the gray squirrel. Somewhere along the line of its ancestors there must have been an African in the woodpile.

* * *

The distressing events in the concrete jungles have touched us only by remote control, via the news media. I gave the evenings of one whole week to my conclusion was that the TV people are conditioning the American people for violence. They must share a good deal of the responsibility for the violence from which the nation is suffering.

I am also convinced the present administration must bear the brunt of the responsibility. They have preached a philosophy that is both non-Christian and found to be lacking in good fruit wherever it has been tried. The President has said again and again that "We shall take from the haves, and give to the have-nots."

This philosophy is contrary to the teaching of both the Old Testament and the New Testament. I read "Thou shalt not steal", also "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's goods, or his wife, etc." In the 25th Chapter of St. Matthew, Jesus tells the parable of the talents. He says, "For unto everyone that hath shall be given and he shall have abundance, but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

The reason for this is that Jesus places a burden of responsibility upon every person, we are all to make the most of life, using what we have, however little it may be to fulfill God's purpose with our lives.

* * *

The philosophy of "taking from the haves and giving to the have nots" is rooted in the philosophy of Friedrich Nietzsche, the apostle of the Superman, the foe of all religion, and also in the philosophy of Karl Marx, the apostle of the super-state. Both men were enemies of a free society and of free enterprise. This is seemingly the philosophy of the administration. Their "actions speak so loud I cannot hear what they are saying."

The right to dissent is basic in a Republican form of government. But stealing, rioting, looting, burning, is not dissent, it is anarchy, and has no place in a Republic. However, the President and his legions have consistently told the people, "that we will do for you, we will provide" and now they are reaping the fruits of their responsibility. One cannot "sow to the winds without reaping the whirlwind." "What you sow, that shall ye also reap," said Jesus of Nazareth.

There is one outstanding time to finesse. This is when you are in a slam contract and you are sure to make it, provided you take the finesse. Never mind about the fact that it is not likely to be necessary and may well cost you an overtrick. To paraphrase Shakespeare, "The slam's the thing."

When North showed an ace and a king South was tempted to go to a grand slam but he put temptation firmly behind him and settled for six. North didn't need seven sure club tricks for his vulnerable three-club bid.

He won the heart opening and counted up. He had six tricks in the three top suits. Six club tricks would give him his slam. The only thing for him to worry about would be a bad club break.

He led the three of clubs. West played the eight and for a moment South was going to play the jack from dummy. That would guard against any and all 2-2 and 3-1 club breaks. It would also produce a grand slam against all such breaks when West held the queen.

He thought for a moment. Then he thought for a second moment and realized that he wasn't interested at all in making an overtrick but he wanted to make his slam.

Four clubs held by East would have beaten him but West had played one club, so East couldn't have four clubs.

That left the possibility that West had started with four clubs. West played the eight; would he play the eight from queen-ten-eight-deuce? Not likely but decidedly possible. South counted up once more, reached over to dummy, pulled out the nine and made sure of his contract. He also made his overtrick when East showed out.

Ann Landers

Taking No Chances Says This 'Holdout'

Dear Readers: Several weeks ago I invited letters from girls who are holding out instead of putting out. This invitation was prompted by a father who asked if there are any girls left who consider themselves real people rather than playthings or sex objects.

I promised to print the best letter but, alas, there were so many superb responses that I have decided to publish three. Here they are:

Dear Ann Landers: I accept your invitation to speak for the "Hold-Outs" against the "Put-Outs." Being a 21-year-old college student, I have been exposed to every type of male—from the mama's boy who wouldn't dream of touching a girl to the sex maniac who views every date as a challenge to fight the lady to the floorboard.

I decided when I started to date that any girl who would trade her virginity for a dinner and a movie is a nitwit. Furthermore, I reasoned, any boy who would ask for such a trade is a foolish, egotistical jackass and should be treated like one.—INTACT IN STATE OF ILLINOIS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school senior who decided at age 12 that I would never buy a cheap package of kicks. I've heard plenty of sales pitches. Some were smoother than others, but they all added up to a shoddy proposition. I am sure it was my parents, (especially my father, who is an obstetrician) who gave me my basic ideas about sex. I'll always be grateful that they never made us feel sex was dirty or wrong.

When Dad would tell us about an unwed mother who had been in his office, he did so with compassion, not disgust. He pointed out that most of the unwed mothers who were brought to him by welfare agencies were ignorant little girls—some of them 14 and 15 years old. These girls were lonely and they felt unloved. They mistakenly believed that an invitation to sex meant someone cared about them and wanted them. He also pointed out that the boys who got these girls into trouble were usually ignorant and irresponsible kids—or married men who were looking for anything from anybody.

To my way of thinking, holding out has never meant the difference between being a good girl or a bad girl. It has meant the choice between being sensible and disciplined or foolish and weak. While I am pleased with my choice, it is my parents who deserve the credit.—ONE OF MANY

Dear Ann Landers: Count me as one who considers herself a real person and not a plaything or a sex object. It is not easy to hold out in this world of rapidly changing values. The old concepts of morality are not as universally accepted as they once were. Too often they fall flat when challenged by space-age arguments for sexual involvement. Lofty ideals are fine, but a girl needs something more tangible these days. Here are the thoughts that have kept me straight for 19 years.

One day I hope to meet a man who will love me, admire me and respect me. I want to be worthy of him. Maybe he will be a free thinker and won't care if I am a virgin or not. But maybe he'll be an old-fashioned guy and he'll care a lot. No man would mind marrying a virgin, but there are plenty of men to whom it would make a great deal of difference. I'm not taking any chances.—TEXAS TEEN

Timely Tips On Keeping Cool

Hot, humid late summer days leave most people feeling limp and uncomfortable, but you can compete with old man weather with two everyday household items: soap and water.

First, slow down. The more you hurry, the warmer you will be. Then, eat average amounts of food, and be sure you include the fresh fruits and vegetables that are available this time of year.

Think cool. Try to plan your days so there are several rest periods when you can sit down, put your feet up, and do nothing for a few minutes. Then, turn your attention to cleanliness.

Freshly-laundered clothing and bedding are important accessories to summer comfort. With today's easy-care fabrics, there should be little ironing, and the whole family can relax in clean, cool clothes.

For personal cleanliness and coolness, start with the hands. Clean hands make you feel cooler all over, so wash often on hot days. Since mosquitoes and other insects annoy people in hot weathe, a good antibacterial soap containing hexachlorophene helps to avoid infection that sometimes results from bites, cuts, or scratches.

Now, the face. A series of two-minute "soapsuds facials" at intervals during the day will brighten your outlook. Skin be oilier in hot weather, and oil and perspiration attract dirt. Wash your face in warm water a mild soap and rinse with a splash of cold water to leave your skin tingling. Use a minimum of make-up.

At least once each day, take time for a leisurely bath. Here, a soap with deodorant action keeps you fresh as well as clean. Bathe in lukewarm water and you will feel cooler longer than if you used cold water.

Special attention for feet is a hot weather must. Feet swell, perspire, and absorb heat from burning pavements. That calls for a foot bath! Run warm, soapy water ankle deep in the tub, sit on the edge or on a stool, and soak your feet. Finish with a brisk scrub, using pumice on calloused areas, and rinse in warm, then cool water. A soothing lotion or powder completes the treatment.

The final touch is clean, shining hair. Brush 100 strokes every day, and shampoo every few days. After you rinse away the lather, gradually turn on the cool water and you'll keep a "cool head" for sure!

You will find you really enjoy summer more when you feel clean, because clean means cool, and cool is comfortable.

Lutheran Youth Series Begins Here On Sunday

Pictured above are team members of Lutheran Youth Encounter which is an international Lutheran youth organization which operates principally in LCA, ALC, and Missouri Synod Lutheran churches and Bible Camps. It is financially independent of aid from any Lutheran church body, with its headquarter in Minneapolis.

This summer there are three such Encounter Teams with scheduled series of evangelistic youth meetings throughout the summer in various parts of the United States and Canada. In past years other teams of Lutheran youth have gone to Norway, Sweden, Finland and to South America in the fall, winter, and spring and will do so again in 1967 and 1968.

Highlights

The above team will be in the Delta County area Sunday through Wednesday, Aug. 6, 7, 8, and 9. Lutheran churches of the area desiring to participate may receive complete programs for distribution to their youth and friends, ninth grade to college age on Sunday, Aug. 6 or for mailing, prior to that date.

Highlights planned are as follows: Sunday and Monday afternoons the Dells Supper Club is being reserved. Organ, piano, guitars, flute, and trumpet will unite for musical selections. Two or three five minute messages will be interspersed between the instrumental music, team singing and group singing. On Monday at 7 p.m. Escanaba's Club 314 will be reserved for the youth group for volleyball, pool, pingpong, basketball and other facilities of the building.

Tuesday youth will assemble at Christ the King Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. for a "Bike Hike," and "Car Caravan" escorted by the State Police to the Gladstone Beach and ball park for recreation followed by an outside weiner-roast. Tuesday evening at Wilderness Park the Lake Michigan shore area is reserved for a large bon-fire with a singspiration, messages, and a time of sharing. Youth are asked to bring their own tents for overnight tenting on Tuesday night in the reserved area (parent-chaperones would be appreciated.)

Sunrise Service

Wednesday morning a bayshore sunrise service will conclude the series.

A complete detailed program of youth activities for Lutheran churches is available from the Rev. Erland E. Carlson, pastor of Christ the King Lutheran Church, sponsors of the activities.

Strawberry Cream Puffs Are Perfect

Associated Press

Start with the best butter and bubbling hot water. Add fine white flour and a careless pinch of salt. Beat in the freshest of eggs.

Drop the batter — glossy-velvet-smooth and buttercup-yellow — onto a cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven until the puffs rise to glorious heights and shine like gold.

Fill the just-cool puffs with huge swirls of whipped cream and spoon over them the sweet goodness of fresh strawberries.

There, then, you have Strawberry Cream Puffs at their best.

Best Strawberry Cream Puffs

¼ cup (½ stick) butter
½ cup boiling water
½ cup sifted regular flour
Pinch of salt
2 large eggs
Strawberries and Cream (see recipe)

Butter a small cookie sheet (14 by 9 or 10 inches). Cut the butter into small pieces and turn into a 1 or 1½ quart saucepan. Add the boiling water; stir over moderate heat to melt butter and bring mixture to the boiling point—several large bubbles should break at the surface. Add the flour all at once and the salt; keep over low heat and with a wooden spoon beat vigorously until the mixture is thick and smooth and comes away from the sides of the pan. Remove from heat. With the spoon, thoroughly beat in one egg, then the other; don't worry because mixture seems to separate; keep beating until it is homogenous, smooth and glossy and thick enough to be dropped. Drop the mixture in 6 mounds, spaced well apart, onto the prepared cookie sheet. Bake in a pre-heated very hot (450 degrees) oven for 10 minutes; reduce heat to hot (400 degrees) and continue baking until puffs are firm and shiny golden brown on top, and no beads of moisture show on the surface — about 25 minutes. With a wide spatula, remove to wire rack to cool. Cut each cream puff in half crosswise; fill and top as directed in Strawberries and Cream recipe. Makes 6 servings.

Strawberries And Cream (For Cream Puffs)

1 pint box strawberries
¼ cup superfine granulated sugar
½ pint heavy cream
⅓ cup confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

About an hour before serving the cream puffs, rinse the strawberries with cold water; hull; halve. Gently mix with superfine sugar; let stand at room temperature. Just before serving cream puffs, whip the cream gradually adding confectioners' sugar and vanilla toward end of beating. With a perforated spoon lift out about half the strawberries and fold into the cream. Fill bottom half of cream puffs with mixture and replace tops; spoon remaining berries over tops of puffs; serve at once.

WORTH EATING — Homemade cream puffs with whipped cream and luscious ripe red fresh strawberries.

Guardsmen Home; Riot 'Like War'

By ROSE LaCHAPELLE

MANISTIQUE — The 107th Engineer Battalion began returning to its Upper Peninsula homes today after 11 days of what members termed "rugged duty" in Detroit riot zones.

The men described the city, especially in the Negro sections, as a shambles, looking worst than what some of the war veterans among them had seen in war-torn areas.

They said that Detroit people were very hospitable to them and served them all the food they could eat at their outpost commands.

Maj. Edward Doyle of Ishpeming said that in one area an elderly woman continuously served coffee and cookies.

Duty Areas

Capt. John Paul Quick of Manistique, who commanded the 61-member Manistique company, said his men were on duty in the Mack Ave. area. Capt. George Anderson's 62-member Gladstone company was detailed at Mack Ave. and 12th St.

Engineers and a Saginaw reconnaisance unit were quartered in the Patton Recreation Area and the Sault St. Marie Engineers were in Detroit Central High School.

Some of the men said that smog from the fires and grit and char flying in the air was a problem and that their faces were covered with it when they slept outdoors.

Until they were organized, supplies to the units were slow in arriving for the first day or two of their duty in the riot zone. No one from the Manistique or Gladstone companies was injured, their commanders said, and Capt. Anderson said that he thought it was good training for the men.

Guardsman Shot

A Lake Linden guardsman, Pfc. Fred Mahr, had his metal helmet punctured by a sniper's bullet and was grazed by the shot and knocked unconscious by the concussion. The bullet made a hole 2 inches in diameter in emerging from his helmet.

The Upper Michigan units left Detroit Thursday and spent the night at Camp Grayling in the Lower Peninsula and completed their trip today.

They were summoned while at Camp Grayling for their annual encampment and training period a week ago Monday to the Detroit trouble. Units of the 125th Infantry were the first dispatched to the Detroit area. The engineer companies were dispatched in groups beginning at 2 a.m. Monday, July 24.

When they returned to Grayling last night some of the men said that they "never thought that Grayling would look so good!"

Mood Is Good

The mood of the men seemed good, although they looked tired and a little "shook" by their riot service. Some were joking and one asked Sgt. Pete Widdis if he'd get a half day work in yet today at the State Bank in Manistique?

Capt. Quick said that after the company put its gear away at the Manistique Armory it would be "home to Mom and the kids."

The U.P. Hamfest of Upper Peninsula amateur radio operators will be held in the Armory on Saturday and Sunday.

A dump truck of the Manistique company left the highway east of Manistique and rolled over on the return trip today.

Guardsmen Of Gladstone Back

Co. E of the 107th Engineers of Gladstone came home from Detroit, along with 1437th Float Bridge Co., today.

The units began arriving about 11:15 a.m. and started unloading their gear at the Gladstone Armory.

Capt. George Anderson said they had about 2 hours of work stowing equipment and then the men would be dismissed.

It will be three weeks tomorrow since they left for camp. What was to have been a two weeks encampment at Camp Grayling resulted in 10 days in Detroit quelling the rioting there.

Pray Sunday For Riot Dead

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has proclaimed Sunday Aug. 6, as a day of mourning for those who lost their lives in the Detroit riots.

Romney said in the proclamation:

The State of Michigan has suffered great loss and undergone great spiritual, mental and physical anguish as a result of the recent riots which ripped through Detroit and several other communities.

For many of our citizens this is a time of personal grief and remembrance. Dozens of lives have been lost, some in the service of their community and state. Hundreds have suffered bodily injury. Thousands are beset by the loss of homes or businesses or by other hardships.

For all of us this should be a time to look to the future. We must work together in a more united manner so that we may overcome the doubts, the fears, the attitudes and the physical problems which contributed to these riots. We must above all insure that out of this period of great tragedy will come a better realization of the meaning of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

Romney's office said the governor will attend the 4 p.m. interfaith services at Detroit's Friendship Baptist Church. It said the services were arranged by the major religious faiths at the request of Romney and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Hearing In Riot Assault Is Today

DETROIT (AP) — The preliminary examination of a private guard accused of felonious assault in an incident during last week's racial violence was delayed until today in Detroit Recorder's Court.

The hearings on charges against Melvin Dismukes, 24, a construction worker and part-time private guard, was delayed for 24 hours Thursday by Judge Samuel H. Olsen when the prosecution's complaining witness failed to appear in court.

Dismukes is accused of assaulting James Sorter, 19, of Detroit, with a gun butt early in the morning of July 26th at the Algiers Motel, where three other Negro teenagers were found shot to death.

The Wayne County Prosecutor's office is studying a report by the Homicide Bureau of the Detroit Police Department on its investigation of the three killings.

Sailboat Sinks; Four Are Rescued

SOUTH HAVEN (AP)— Four teen-agers were rescued from Lake Michigan Thursday when their 22-foot sailboat capsized and sank during a rain and wind storm. There were no injuries. The Coast Guard picked up Tom Newton, Jan Lineberry and Linda Flessner, all of South Haven, and Dave Yeider of Bangor about one-quarter of a mile off shore.

No Report; He Didn't Run!

DETROIT (AP) — The son of a Missouri sharecropper, who says he's never been to school and never ran for election, has been accused of failing to file a record of campaign expenses.

Judge George Bowles, Wayne County one-man grand jury, indicted James G. Williams for failure to file a record of expenses in a primary campaign for county auditor last year.

Williams said he didn't even know his name was on the ballot and he has trouble reading and writing.

Stands Mute

Williams stood mute at his arraignment Thursday before Common Pleas Judge John D. O'Hair. He was released on personal bond to await trial Aut. 10.

The warrant filed by Bowles charges Williams failed to file "a full and true" account of his expenses in an unsuccessful race for auditor Aug. 2, 1966.

Williams came to court clutching a copy of the indictment and said he knew nothing of his race until last Monday.

"I don't even know what an auditor is," said Williams. "I'm just dumb to it. I don't have any education."

He said he hasn't worked steadily for the past two years. When he works, said Williams, he's a paper hanger and painter.

On Welfare

Williams saie he, his wife and six children are supported by $312 a month in welfare checks.

One day, Williams said, a Mr Baker approached him while he was painting Baker's house. Williams said he signed some papers, thinking he was helping Baker run for some political office.

"They came by later and wanted to take my picture," he said. "They said they wanted it because I was running for something."

"I told them that I wasn't running for anything," he went on. "But they told me I should ... it would be a good thing."

17th Of 19

James Williams finished 17th in a field of 19, getting more than 3,060 votes, in the election.

Election records show that a Frank A. Williams and Mrs. Hattie Williams also were candidates for auditor in the 1966 primary.

During the election, a number of candidates in various races filed suits charging their opponents attempted to reduce the number of votes that might have gone to a strong candidate by entering an unqualified person with the same name to run against him.

The offense with which Williams is charged is a misdemeanor.

But it carries a maximum penalty of two years in jail or $1,000 fine, or both.

Marinette Firm Sale Announced

MARINETTE — Sale of Badger Manufacturing Co., of Marinette to Safeguard Industries, Inc., Philadelphia, was announced Thursday by E. D. Barggren, president of the Marinette firm.

Barggren said Badger will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Safeguard Industries on Aug. 15.

Warren V. Musser, president and chairman of the Safeguard Industries Board of Directors, said further expansion of the Marinette operation with an increase in the number of jobs is being planned.

Safeguard Industries and Badger Manufacturing served the same customers in many areas with automotive products and supplies.

Detroit Checks Police Brutality

DETROIT (AP)— Common Council has asked Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to report today on his findings on charges of police brutality. The mayor has promised that each complaint would be thoroughly investigated.

More than 200 claims of brutality and illegal search and seizure have been made to investigating agencies since the riot.

"Each of these claims will be thoroughly investigated," Cavanagh said. "I would ask the community not to pass judgment on the accusations against individual policemen until there has been an opportunity to investigate them."

The mayor called for the same open-mindedness about persons arrested during the violence "until the defendants have had their day in court."

Nicholas Hood, a Negro and a council member, said Thursday he had received complaints that police beat prisoners and illegally searched persons on the streets and in their homes.

Hood said that more than 110 complaints have been referred to the U.S. Justice Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"Pressure is building up out there in the neighborhood," he said.

UCT Offers Scholarships

United Commercial Travelers in furthering its No. 1 project—assistance to the mentally retarded — is offering scholarships to qualified young people who are interested in careers as teachers of the mentally retarded.

Clyde F. Hinckley of Kalamazoo, chairman of the UCT's committee for the mentally retarded in Michigan, was in Escanaba today in encouraging applications for teaching scholarships.

College students as well as graduates of high schools and colleges are eligible to apply for the scholarships, he said. To March of this year nationally a total of 325 scholarships have been approved and the grants for the period Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1966 totaled $49,532.

Applicants may apply here to Clarence Larson, 906 Main St., Wells, the local UCT scholarship chairman. Information is available from Larson and from Dr. A. A. Gossan, Escanaba, with whom Hinckley conferred in Escanaba.

Hinckley was returning from the grand convention of the UCT in San Francisco when he visited here today.

Heads Uniform State Law Force

HONOLULU (AP)—William J. Pierce of the University of Michigan has been installed as president of the National Conference of Commissioners on uniform state laws at the American Bar Association 90th annual meeting here. He will serve a two-year term, succeeding William A. McKenzie of Cincinnati.

Briefly Told

Two cars were damaged but the drivers escaped injury in a traffic accident on M 35 at Breezy Point at 4:15 p. m., Thursday, it is reported by Sheriff Harold Finman. The drivers were John Tardiff of 510 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone, and Thomas Mannebach, 1311 S. 3rd Ave., Escanaba. The latter was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions.

Officers of the Delta County sheriff's department today are investigating a complaint of a breaking and entering of the Mrs. Joseph Worth cottage at Portage Point.

Mildred Davidson, 4, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson of Wilson Rte. 1, suffered wounds of the head and face when she was bitten by the family dog about 4:30 p. m., Thursday. The father killed the dog and the head has been forwarded to the state laboratory in Lansing to determine if the animal was rabid, reports Sheriff Harold Finman.

Soviet Trawler Is Seized Again

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A Soviet trawler, seized last March for violating the 12-mile exclusive fisheries zone off the Alaska coast, was picked up for the same offense Thursday, the Coast Guard reported.

The STRM 8-457, a 180-foot refrigerator vessel, was seized by the Coast Guard cutter Avoyel 10 miles north of Akutan Island in the Aleutians and taken under tow for Dutch Harbor.

"I am urging confiscation of this Russian trawler," Gov. Walter Hickel said.

The seizure was the third of a Soviet vessel in Alaskan waters in the past year. When the STRM 8-457 was taken off Seal Cape in March she was captained by Luonid M Kushchenko, who was fined $10,000. It is not known who her skipper is now.

Market Advances In Active Session

NEW YORK (AP) — A stock market advance gathered steam early Friday.

Gains outnumbered loses by better than 7 to 3.

The industrial average, sluggish at the start, climbed 4 points or so.

In active trading, Motorola rose 3, Studebaker 2, McDonnell Douglas and Gulf & Western Industries more than a point each.

Du Pont advanced 2½ and Montgomery Ward about a point.

Allis Chalmers opened on a delayed block of 34,300 shares, up ⅞ at 31¼, later extending its gain to more than a point.

Tickets Run Out

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mansfield is running short on parking tickets and no one seems to care, says Douglas Hazen, city safety director.

Three requests to the City Council for money to print more forms have been ignored, seriously putting a crimp on the number of tickets police can give out, Hazen said Thursday.

Some Democrats Join GOP Fight On Income Levy

ghter reins on spending, Miller added:

"His concern that such a deficit would cause inflation and high interest rates should have been shown a year and a half ago when he told the American people that we could afford to fight the war in Vietnam and increase the pace of Great Society domestic programs at the same time."

Some Are Exempt

"I am becoming particularly disturbed by the Johnson administration's policy of blaming every economic ill in this country on the war in Vietnam," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R—Utah, a member of the Senate Finanace Committee.

Johnson specified the surcharge would not apply across the board—some 16 million persons in the lowest taxpaying brackets would be exempt.

Thus a single person making no more than $1,900, a couple up to $3,600 or a family with two children up to $5,000 would have no surtax to pay.

But a $10,000 income typically would bear $174 more in taxes for a single person, $134 for a childless couple, $111 for a family of four. At $20,000 the increases would be $492, $348 and $316. All these figures assume standard deductions.

Economics Talked

There were some suggestions taxpayers above the lowest brackets should have a portion of their income exempt from the surtax.

Other proposals were for an excess profits tax or a higher surtax on corporate than individual income. Ways and Means committeeman Al Ullman, D—Ore., said he is pushing a 5 per cent individual, 10 per cent corporate formula.

And Republicans, as well as some Democrats, called for strictest economy to minimize or even avert any tax increase.

Business reaction was mixed, but leaned toward accepting Johnson's case for the tax hike. The man in the street seemed less enthusiastic, however, an informal AP survey around the country indicated.

Ruppe Still Seeks Bridge Toll Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressman Philip Ruppe, R-Mich., said today he is deeply disappointed that the State Senate adjourned without giving final approval to a bill that would have lowered the tolls on the Mackinac Bridge from $3.75 to about $1.75.

Ruppe, whose 11th District encompasses all of the Upper Peninsula and several counties in the northern half of Lower Michigan, said there is no greater single deterrent to the economic development of the area than what he called the "outrageous tolls" on the bridge.

"While still hopeful of a reduction to about $1.00 per vehicle," he said, "a reduction to $1.75 would be a major step forward."

He declared "I will not rest until the tolls have been substantially reduced."

Bay Cliff Ending 34th Camping Season Aug. 13

BIG BAY — The seven-week camping season at Bay Cliff Health Camp here will close on Aug. 13, marking the end of the 34th consecutive summer that Bay Cliff has provided therapeutic services to physically handicapped children of the Upper Peninsula.

Founded in 1934 by Miss Elba Morse and Dr. Goldie Corneliuson of the Northern Michigan Children's Clinic in Marquette, the camp provided nourishing food and care to 107 children during its first year. This year, 193 children — all but one from the Upper Peninsula — are enrolled and receiving a variety of therapeutic service.

Bay Cliff is situated on land once known as Chedna Farms. The land was purchased for the camp in 1936 through funds made available by the Rackham, McGregor and Couzens Funds.

Children from 4 to 17 years of age are accepted at Bay Cliff. The camp is divided into five units — (1) girls, (2) older boys, (3) younger boys, (4) the youngest children in camp and (5) severely handicapped children.

Diseases Treated

Typical of the physical illnesses that have been served through Bay Cliff's therapeutic program are cerebral palsy, epilepsy, polio, Perthes disease, muscular dystrophy and cardiac conditions.

Enrollment in the various therapy programs this year is: Occupational therapy, 46; physical therapy, 52; hearing, 25; speech correction, 143; remedial reading, 33. In addition, all of the children were screened by the speech, hearing and dental personnel, and in the case of children needing dental care, the appropriate service was provided.

Psychological testing is administered and this year, for the first time, a pilot project for emotionally disturbed children became part of the camp program. This project is sponsored jointly by Bay Cliff and the Upper Peninsula Child Guidance Clinic, Inc.

Many Sponsors

To provide the quality of service in the therapy programs that it is believed will best meet the needs of the children, cooperative programs also have been developed with Northern Michigan University, Cerebral Palsy Association of Michigan, C. S. Mott Children's Foundation of Flint, Michigan State Health and Education Departments and other colleges, universities and health agencies throughout Michigan and surrounding states.

An integral part of the camping experience for the child is his participation in swimming, nature study, arts and crafts and an organized recreation program. The wooded area within the camp and the nearby shores of Lake Superior provide abundant opportunities for cook-outs, camp-outs and hikes.

Non-Profit Camp

Bay Cliff was incorporated as a non-profit organization in 1936. Initially, the camp was supported through private grants and funds. As the funds expired and as the expansion and modernization of program and facilities continued, the camp has become dependent upon the financial support of citizens from throughout the Upper Peninsula.

In an average year, the cost per week per child at the camp is about $60. The total budget for the camp for this season is about $80,000, plus another $10,000 worth of labor and material donated by individuals and groups.

Arrangements for donations to Bay Cliff may be made by contacting the camp's office in Big Bay or Marquette. Contributions are deductible from federal income taxes.

Johnson Rebuts Politics Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has indirectly but firmly rebutted Michigan Gov. George Romney's charge that the White House played politics in the dispatch of troops to quell the rioting in Detroit.

Breaking his public silence Thursday, Johnson outlined to newsmen the constitutional requirements he said were necessary before the President could dispatch troops. Then he gave a chronological account of events July 24.

The chief executive himself never mentioned the subject of political maneuvering but after his own comments he introduced Cyrus Vance, White House representative in Detroit, who adamantly denied politics was involved in the handling of the affair.

After the news conference by Johnson, Vance and Lt. Gen. John Throckmorton, troop commander in Detroit, White House press secretary George Christian said: "This ends it, as far as we are concerned."

The White House then distributed to newsmen "for your information and background" copies of Romney's telegram requesting troops, the reply, constitutional provisions on the subject, and a summary of past incidents when troops were dispatched by a President.

At a news conference Monday, Johnson refused to comment on the controversy, saying nothing would be gained by "trying to justify or explain."

But Thursday, the President went into history to explain his reluctance to send the troops and the reason for his language in finally announcing his decision.

The announcement laid repeated stress on existence of a situation out of local and state control.

Counties

The 193 children at Bay Cliff Health Camp this summer are from the following counties: Alger, 6; Baraga, 12; Chippewa, 16; Delta, 8; Dickinson, 21; Gogebic, 6; Houghton and Keweenaw, 23; Iron, 15; Luce, 6; Mackinac, 3; Marquette, 51; Menominee, 11; Schoolcraft, 5, and Ontonagon, 9. One camper is from downstate Clinton County.

Fair Colors Its Buildings

There's "Color, Color, everywhere" at the Upper Peninsula State Fair grounds. Persons driving by on Highway U.S. 2-41 note the eye-catching colors.

The 4-H Dining Hall is a bright red and the 4-H Dormitory a brilliant blue and both buildings are trimmed in white.

The large 4-H cattle barn is the "yellowest yellow" available and makes a standout addition to the southeast end of the grounds. Work is now being done on several other buildings to give them a new look and painting progresses on the Exhibition Building. In Fair Week visitors will enjoy resting on comfortable benches located under roofed areas throughout the grounds, and picnic tables and benches are being erected in several areas.

Improvement in the blacktop surface of the Midway and surrounding exhibit spaces will make walking easier. The natural color of hundreds of flowering plants vie for attention in the "face-lifting at the Fair, and will add to the color of the week-long event.

With a record number of exhibit entries expected, the 1967 Upper Peninsula State Fair Aug. 15-20 has set an additional advance entry day for Sunday, Aug. 13, to give exhibitors more time to get their exhibits in place. Cattle entries have been received from most U.P. counties in both dairy and beef animals. The horse entries have been the largest in many years.

Lots Of Living In A Ranch

By ANDY LANG

The family requiring four bedrooms on a single floor will find this cedar-shingled ranch laid out to accommodate both formal and informal living and entertaining.

Directly upon entering the foyer, one sees a portion of the formal area — a light, sunken living room with a ceiling 9' 6" high and a full wall of windows allowing a pleasant view of the rear garden. On the opposite wall of this room a dramatic fireplace is housed in a wall entirely of stone. The adjacent dining room is separated from the living room only by a low railing, so that there is a complete open space 31' 6" for the handling of formal activities.

Conveniently located off the dining room, but not visible from the formal section, is the kitchen. This room, well equipped with modern appliances, combines with the family room to form one large L-shaped space which extends from the front to the rear of the house. It is within easy reach of the front and side entries. The kitchen is large enough to handle a table for informal family dining. Architect Samuel Paul has provided additional culinary opportunities on the patio, which is entered from the family room through sliding glass doors. Here, in an area sheltered by the rear of the garage and a side wall, are a stove and a sink with cabinets, lending maximum convenience to those handling the outdoor dining chores.

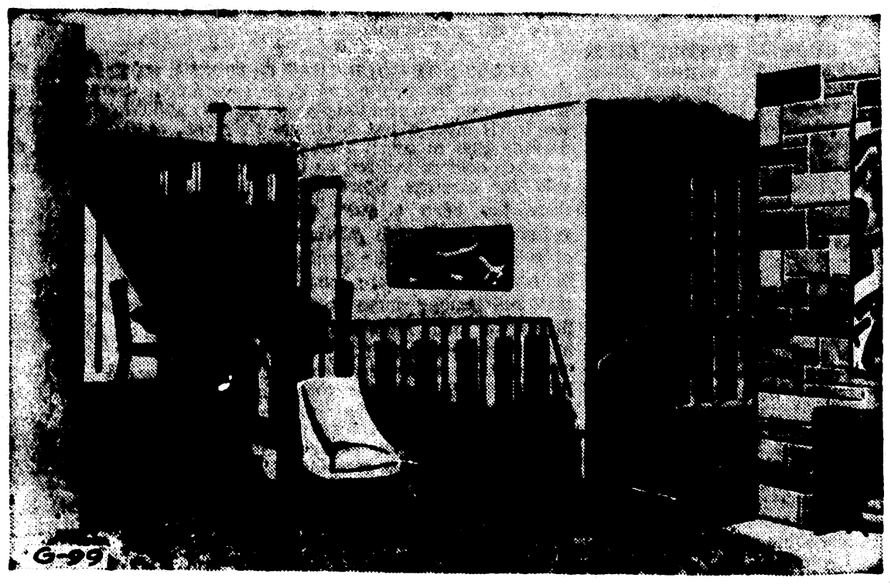
A laundry-mud room with closet, and a small lavatory, are located off the kitchen in this informal area of the house. A side entry, convenient to the two-car garage, leads into the mud room, so that any cleaning-up can be done before going into the regular living sections. Since there also is a door at the rear of the garage leading to the patio, anyone parking a car in the garage has a choice of going into the house via the mud room or moving onto the patio to relax.

Thus, there are two distinct formal and informal zones, so arranged that neither need be entered to get to the other. And the third zone — the bedroom area — is located at the opposite end of the house, giving it the necessary privacy.

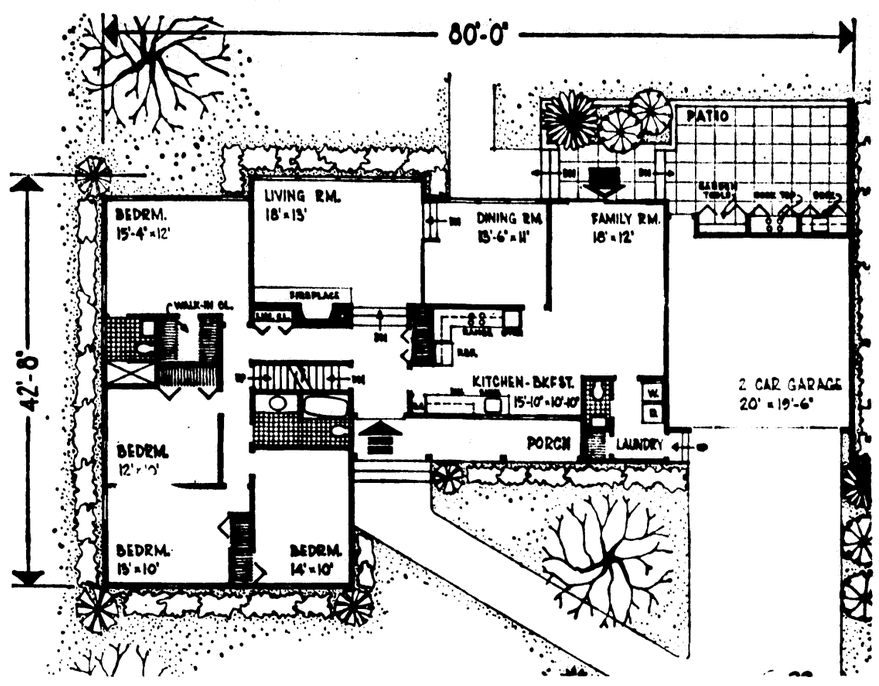
The four bedrooms can be reached directly from the front foyer. Three of them have cross ventilation. The master bedroom has its own private bath with stall shower and features a walk-in closet. The main bath, entered from the hall, has a full tub and shower. The fixtures are so arranged so that the bathroom can be compartmented.

A stairway from the bedroom wing leads to an attic, which can be used for storage or finished into a large bedroom and bath, or a den and or recreational room — or any special-purpose room to suit the family's needs. Just off the bedroom hall is a large linen closet.

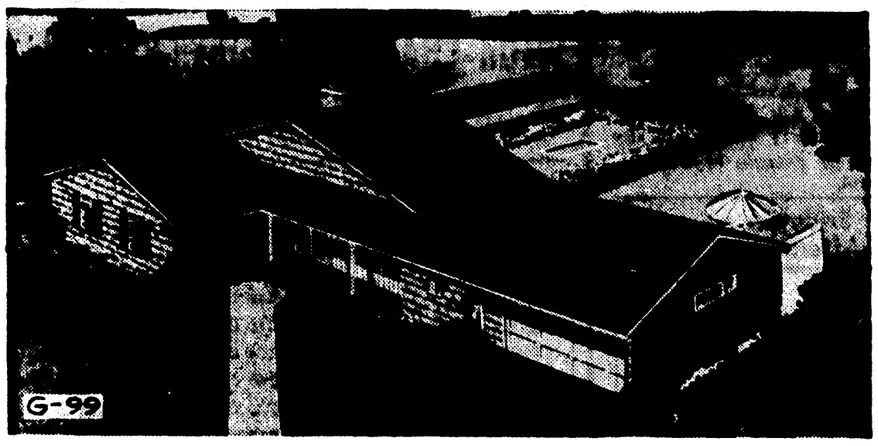
Outside, Design G-99 has a pleasant appearance, enhanced by natural cedar shingles, which have the added virtue of requiring little or no maintenance. There is a spacious front porch with stone flooring. By paving the area in front of it, the porch can be extended to form a second patio. The artist's rendering shows a suggested walkway, angled for an interesting effect.



VIEW FROM LIVING ROOM: Artist's rendering from sunken living room shows portion of railed dining room and gives a glimpse of complete wall of stone housing fireplace.



FLOOR PLANS: By the use of a low railing between the two, the living room and the dining room have an air of "openness" ideal for formal entertaining; the L-shape of the kitchen and family room make an equally satisfactory arrangement for informality.



COMFORTABLE RANCH: Distinguished by its over-all appearance of pleasantness and comfort, this house is especially geared to relaxed living. Wall at right rear of garage lends privacy to paved patio that includes kitchen facilities to make outdoor dining easier.

G-99 STATISTICS

Design G-99 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, family room, four bedrooms, laundry room, foyer and 2½ baths with a habitable area of 1850 square feet. There is a sizable patio behind the two-car garage and a spacious porch at the front. The plans call for a partial basement. Over-all dimensions, which include the 20' by 19' 6" garage, are 80' by 42' 8". The house can be entered through the regular front door, through a side entry leading to the laundry room and, at the rear, through sliding glass doors to the family room.

Get Cool Breeze With Attic Fan

No need to lose your cool over the heat of summer. While whole-house air-conditioning is the ultimate in cooling, it is possible to make your home comfortable without it. Cool air is free; it's just a matter of getting it into your house to replace the warm air.

An attic fan, not exactly cheap, is still less expensive than air-conditioning. It pulls the warm air out of the house during the evening, causing cooler air to rush in through open windows from the outside.

The attic fan is generally located in the attic floor over the ceiling in the middle of the house. Installing the fan at one end of the attic itself, in a gable, is possible only if the attic is tightly sealed. Otherwise you will simply be changing the attic air.

The fan can be mounted vertically inside the attic by building it into a suction box which serves as an air tunnel. The only side open in the attic will be the fan side.

Rule of thumb for size of an attic fan is one that will change the air in a house once every minute, every 1½ minutes at least. Fan capacity is rated in cubic feet per minute —multiply length times width times the height of the ceiling to get the cubic feet in your house.

A good attic fan may run about $150 plus the cost of installation. Cheaper though not so efficient is a large window fan. There are types and sizes to fit every window.

Careful use of a window fan can work wonders in cooling a house. Again the best place is upstairs. Locate it in a window on the sunny side of the house and close the other windows along that side. Open the windows on the shady side and downstairs where the air is cooler. Remember that the fan must pull air out of the house so that it can be replaced by cooler air.

Run the fan at night, keep windows closed and shades drawn on the sunny side during the day to retain the cool air.

Even without a fan you can keep your house cool by providing the proper outlets for warm air and inlets for cool. Your entire house is like a chimney and the warm air rises in it. Provide openings where they will do the most good.

Open up all windows at night, close and shade the ones on the sunny side during the day. Keep interior doors open as well as outside doors during the night so that air can flow through the house. Open basement windows—air is coolest at the lowest point.

If your house is on a slab, try to install ground-level vents to admit air. Screen them and cover them so they can be closed in the window.

If your house has a crawl space, it has a supply of cool air. Floor registers that can be opened in summer, closed in winter will tap this supply.

At the top of the house there should be vents to rid it of the warm air that piles up under the ceiling. Most attic vents are too small, allow air to pile up and get hot and stagnant. Large, window-size vents are worth the cost of installation.

Stock air vents can be installed under the eaves. These louvered metal units are screened and are either round or square. They permit the circulation of air under the roof. A cupola is more than just decorative. Air leaves the house through an opening in the roof under the cupola and escapes through the vented sides.—NEA

Hats For Girls Returning To Style

WHIRLWIND OF HATS: Hats are coming back for girls. Regardless of whether this momentous happening grows to a full-fledged style front, hats are here, this summer. Pert British actress Judy Geeson said over a month ago, that sombreros had sprung up with the spring flowers in England. Now a leading authority in the U. S. millinery world reveals all. Early this year young Parisiennes, for no reason, suddenly sported sombrero-type . . . . fad jumped to England (where the smart set is smar[illegible]gh to copy youth). This intercontinental headgear surge ..as hit U. S. Most popular is the soft, crushable, floppy-brimmed, girl sombrero (a la Greta Garbo) . . . also the Aussie digger (Australian cowboy type) that's stiffer brimmed . . . both circled by 3½ to 4-inch brims and in solid colors. Next, the snap brim (more like a man's everyday hat — high crown, small brim) in non-everyday colors [illegible]e glaring orange, apple green, bright beige. In straws, grandpa's stiff yellow model is coming back some (it's shaped like the low-crowned Civil War ironclad, Monitor) . . . More graceful for girls in the Louisiana planter's version of white, thin straw, natural crown, fedora-type brim. Alas, guys, girls are stealing your hats, this summer . . . but the fierce force of fashion makes amends for this. Deep research has discovered: as skirts get shorter more heads hide under hats . . . and as bikinis get skimpier, the shrinkage of apparel is made up for by bigger beach hats.

CRUNCHY, CHEWY, TASTY BUGS — FUTURE DIET: Grandpop stuck to meat and potatoes . . . Dad scorned salads as a boy, but succumbed to them when courting mom. The American diet just in the last few years has increased in prodigious variety (all the new fresh frozen foods, for instance) . . . But (here, too) a disturbing portent looms for the future — You may eat insects. University of California's Dr. Ronald L. Taylor points out that shortages of staple foods plague the world . . . then spices up his entomology classes by serving fried caterpillars or chocolate-covered bees. Civilized man's [illegible]version to dining on the earth's rich hordes of insects he calls "irrational." Tastier and "cleaner" than many of today's prized foods, insects are more than a "food of the future." At movies in South America toasted leaf-cutting ants are sold like popcorn . . . termites and caterpillars pop down appreciative gullets in Africa . . . Both Japan and China highly esteem a juicy snack of silkworm pupae . . . while across our border in Mexico, the butterfly larva that hatches in the same plant that pulque, a national drink, is made from is savored to gulp down with the drink. To the hesitant beginner sampling this wonderful new larder of nature, Dr. Taylor suggests — raw, toasted, fried, boiled, curried, powdered or baked . . . your everyday, back yard grasshopper.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

* * *

ALL IS NOT GOLD THAT GLITTERS, GUYS: Soviet Russia, General De Gaulle and U. S. government are all trying to muscle in on the gold supply . . . So why shouldn't U. S. youth, too (girls mostly, but boys, too . . . and, of course, boys bedecking girls in gold). Start came with the pierced ears frenzy — when doctors insisted on the sterility of 12K to 14K (karat) gold for earrings. Since then there has been a quiet upswing in young adult purchase of golden trinkets, the jewelry industry reports. More money scattered among more young people has made more geegaws in gold easier to afford . . . and new variety in designs (combining gold with precious stones and such) has stimulated teen tastes for gold ornaments. Meanwhile, the price of gold, by federal ukase, has remained frozen at 1934 prices (suppose this had happened with cars, education and clothes)! Some tips about buying the glittering stuff: Key to its value is the number of karats — pure gold is 24 karat (too soft to stand rough jewelry wear) . . . for every part of alloy added, one karat goes up the flue, but below 10 karat it's usually not considered quality gold . . . So when a girl (or a guy) gets gold adornment, it's nicest to receive it in 14K to 18K (always stamped right into the piece).

Car Production Near Standstill

DETROIT (AP) — Only two automobile plants were turning out 1967 models this week as production continued to decline in preparation for the model changeover.

Automotive News reported that two more plants—Chevrolet in Atlanta and Ford at San Jose, Calif. — shut down this week for the changeover.

This week's output amounted to 22,883, the trade publication said, compared with 40,322 last week and 18,427 in the corresponding week one year earlier. The calendar year production total stood at 4,454,981, compared with 5,400,812 for the same period of 1966.

The only two plants still building 1967 models are Ford Motor facilities at Dearborn and Metuchen, N. J.

Automotive News reported that truck production totaled 10,080 this week, down from 14,514 last week and 12,806 the year-ago week. Calendar 1967 completions numbered 991,770 compared with 1,128,595 in 1966.

Canadian auto assemblies declined this week to 1,612 from last week's 4,314. In the same week last year, the total was 80. The year-to-date total for the calendar year moved up to 423,805, compared with the 458,488 turned out in the same span last year.

Truck output in Canada dipped to 677 this week. Last week, the total was 2,294, while a year ago it was 2,086. This year's production so far has amounted to 145,112 trucks, up from 126,484 at the same point last year.

College All Stars Begin, End Grid Season Tonight

By The Associated Press

The College All-Stars and the New York Jets open pro football's first big exhibition weekend of 1967 tonight with the same old worries—knocking Bart Starr off his feet and keeping Jo Namath on his.

The All-Stars start and end their season in Chicago against the world champion Green Bay Packers, who will be playing for the first time in 10 years without Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. But Starr is back, and he is what bugs the All-Stars.

The Packer quarterback, the National Football League's most valuable player last year, threw two touchdown passes in the 1966 charity game at Soldier's Field, leading the Packers to a 38-0 victory.

New York, on the other hand, has its annual job of protecting Namath, its golden armed, tin kneed quarterback. Namath will be testing for the first time in a game his right knee, which was operated on last December, and his left knee, in which he strained a tendon 10 days ago.

The All-Stars will send a front four of Bubba Smith of Michigan State, Pete Duranko and Alan Page of Notre Dame and Carel Stith of Nebraska after Starr. If they don't get him, maybe linebackers George Webster of Michigan State, Jim Lynch of Notre Dame and Paul Naumoff of Tennessee can get to him.

If Starr has time to throw, the inexperienced All-Star defensive backs stand little chance against Green Bay receivers.

Starr also can turn to running backs Elijah Pitts and Donny Anderson, who replace Taylor and Hornung. Hornung left in the expansion draft and Taylor played out his option and signed with New Orleans. Hornung has retired.

Offensively, the All-Stars will rely on either Steve Spurrier of Florida or Bob Griese of Purdue at quarterback; running backs Floyd Little of Syracuse, Bob Grim of Oregon State and Ray McDonald of Idaho, and receivers Jack Clancy of Michigan and Tom Beer of Houston.

At Bridgeport, Conn., Namath and Mike Taliaferro, who will split the quarterback chores for the Jets, will be throwing at Boston's rookie-filled defense, which the Patriots are trying to strengthen.

The Pats, who finished second in the American League's Eastern Divison in 1966, normally have a fine defense, but Namath took it apart 38-28 last Dec. 17 in a game that cost Boston the division title.

Boston still has its offensive punch of quarterback Babe Parilli, fullback Jim Nance and receiver-kicker Gino Cappelletti.

On Saturday on the NFL, Philadelphia and Cleveland meet at Canton, Ohio. In the AFL, Buffalo and Miami tangle at Memphis, Tenn.; Kansas City plays at Houston, and San Diego travels to Oakland. Detroit of the NFL plays at Denver of the AFL.

Rain Halts Game

Tigers Trip Birds, 5-0

BALTIMORE (AP) — Denny McLain, sipping his ever-present soft drink, was dressed and ready to leave the clubhouse by the time the game was over.

The 23-year-old right-hander of the Detroit Tigers had been sent to the showers early—not by the Baltimore Orioles, but by a torrential downpour of rain in the eighth inning.

McLain won the rain-shortened contest 5-0 Thursday night, stopping the Orioles on three singles. He struck out six, walked one and didn't allow a runner past first base while bringing his record to 13-12.

What's more, young Denny extended to 52 the number of consecutive innings he has hurled without allowing a home run. That's quite an achievement for a pitcher who led the American League with 42 "Gopher" tosses last season and granted 23 in his first 121 innings this year.

"I've been finding my groove . . . and now I have a sinker," McLain said, explaining his recent success in preventing his pitches from being slammed over the outfield fences.

McLain credited Johnny Sain, the Detroit pitching coach, with helping him develop the sinker — which when thrown correctly, induces batters to hit the ball on the ground.

"I was fooling around on the sideline one day when my pitch moved like a sinker," McLain said. "I kept throwing, and found out how to use the sinker."

McLain has thrown the sinker in his last seven starts, pitching shutouts on July 8 and last week in addition to the seven-inning performance Thursday night.

"I only used about three or four sinkers against Baltimore, though," McLain said, "because I had a good overhand fast ball."

The game, which started 29 minutes late because of rain, was delayed another 16 minutes after Baltimore batted in the seventh and then ended on a bizarre note.

With two outs and two runs in for Detroit in the eighth, time was called when rain started falling again.

The canvas - type tarpaulin was rolled out once more. But members of the ground crew, slipping and falling on the infield.

The Tigers scored in the eighth on a single by Norm Cash and a sacrifice fly by Ray Oyler.

Bill Freehan knocked in two runs with a fourth-inning bloop single and a drive in the sixth which caromed off the foot of losing pitcher Bill Dillman.

Al Kaline launched two of the three Detroit rallies with doubles, scoring on Jim Northrup's double in the third and on the single by Cash in the eighth.

The Tigers move to Cleveland tonight, where Johnny Podres (3-0) faces Sam McDowell (8-9).

Two Golfers Score Aces At Gladstone

GLADSTONE—The Gladstone Golf Club course was the site of two holes in one on the same day this week, marking the first aces scored at the Days River layout this season.

Gene Harris holed his tee shot on the same No. 4 with a 9-iron while golfing with Jim and Pat Farrell. The ace helped Harris to a neat 35 score.

McKinley Eyes Court Revenge

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Fourth-seeded Bob McKinley got a chance for revenge today in the junior quarterfinals of the National Junior and Boys tennis championship in Kalamazoo.

McKinley, of St. Louis, Mo., was scheduled to meet seventh-seeded Erik Van Dillen, of San Mateo, Cal., last year's boys 16-and-under champion.

Last year, Van Dillen defeated McKinley 9-7, 6-1 in the boys finals.

Van Dillen is only 16 years old and would have been eligible to defend his boys title. He decided, however, to move up into the junior division.

In Thursday's play, Brian Gottfried, Cape Coral, Fla., became the fourth player in the boys 16 - and - under catagory to fall victim to an upset.

Gottfried, the division's sixth-ranked player, lost to Michael Kreiss, Beverly Hills, Cal., 7-5, 6-1 in the fourth round. Three of the ten to-ranked netters in the category were eliminated Wednesday in upsets.

Kreiss' younger brother, Robert, last year's boys 14-and-under national champion, was eliminated Thursday by John Wright, Fullerton, Cal., 2-6, 6-3, 6-3.

THE ESKY CUBS will be shooting for their 13th straight Upper Peninsula American Legion baseball championship when they take on Channing in a best-of-three series at Ranger Field in Iron Mountain, starting Saturday at 11 a. m. Bankers vs. Mead 2 p.m.

The Bankers vaulted into the championship game of the Escanaba Babe Ruth baseball tournament by defeating Kiwanis, 7-2 behind a one hit pitching performance by John Gravelle Thursday.

After a shaky second inning in which he allowed two runs on four walks and a hit batsman, Gravelle handcuffed Kiwanis batters without a hit until the last of the seventh inning.

The lone hit off Gravelle was a pop fly over first base by Dennis Lueneburg. Kiwanis pitcher. Gravelle struck out nine. Lueneberg allowed five hits and fanned 12.

Bob Stacey led the Bankers with two hits in four trips.

The Bankers will face Mead in the title game Saturday at 2. Manager Bill Pfister will likely go with Tom Kangas for Mead while Fran Gravelle will call on Al Larson for Banker mound chores.

Champion Wins In State Golf

SAGINAW (AP)—The defending champion and a former champ remained in contention today as the Michigan Public Links golf tournament moved into quarterfinals at Saginaw's Swan Valley Golf Course.

Defending champion Dr. Wayne Kramer, Detroit, easily won his two 18-hole matches Thursday, defeating Lou St. Amour, Detroit, 5-and-4, and beating Dayton Shanahan, Wixom, 1964 champion, 5-and-4.

Jack Flock, Detroit, lost his championship to Kramer in the finals last year, earned a spot in the 16-man quarterfinal round by defeating Vince Tata, Detroit, 5-and-4, and squeezing out Claude Dwight, Detroit, 2-up.

Karras Is Sorry For Lions' Foe In First Outing

DENVER (AP) — The Detroit Lions take on Denver Saturday night in their first meeting with an American Football League club, and Alex Karras has a warning for the Broncos.

"I feel sorry for Denver," said Karras, starting his 10th National Football League season has been the hardest training with the opening exhibition. "This has been the hardest training season I've ever worked in. That goes for high school, college and the Lions."

"I feel sorry for anyone we play now," added the burly defensive tackle. "We've been working so hard, you'd better believe it hasn't been to lose."

A sellout crowd of 35,000 is expected for the game, which will be televised locally in Detroit.

Coach Joe Schmidt hasn't announced his quarterback. He may split the job between second-year man Karl Sweetan and veteran Milt Plum, with rookie Tim Jones getting a shot or two.

Pat Studstill, All-Pro flankerback, aggravated his left knee in practice Tuesday and is a doubtful starter.

"We won't risk Pat's leg here," said Schmidt. "It'll be up to him and the doctors on whether he plays."

Bill Malinenak, a tight end from Indiana, most likely will replace Studstill. The No. 2 flankerback, John Henderson of Michigan, is on duty with the National Guard in Detroit.

Detroit, with a 4-9-1 record last season, finished last in the NFL's Western Division. Denver had a 4-10 record in the AFL's Eastern Division and has only one stand-out veteran, Cookie Gilchrist, at fullback.

Denver's new coach, Lou Saban, formerly coached the Buffalo Bills to an AFL title. He picked up Syracuse All-America Floyd Little in the draft. The Broncos have five players, including Little, on the College All-Star team which plays the Green Bay Packers tonight in Chicago.

Denver lost a 19-2 decision to the Miami Dolphins last week and Scotty Glacken, tne of several quarterbacks who played briefly in the game, was tapped to start against Detroit.

Top Teams Bow In Farm League

By The Associated Press

The second-place Richmond Braves missed a good chance to close the one-half game gap between them and International League leading Rochester as the Braves lost Thursday night to Buffalo 6-3

But while Richmond was bowing to Buffalo, the Rochester Red Wings were meeting a similar fate at the hands of the Toledo Mud Hens.

Toledo defeated Rochester 5-0 behind the seven-hit pitching of Daryl Patterson.

In Rochester, Toledo took its third straight game from the Red Wings by jumping to a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

In the third, the Mud Hens sent Red Wing starter-loser Bud Adamson to the shower with a single, double and two sacrifice flies.

Rookies Pace Western Open

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Stanton was on the practice tee until nightfall sharpening up for today's second round of the $102,000 Western Open.

The lanky, 21-year-old Sydney, Australia, pro is in the heat of a par shattering battle to hold on to his share of the lead in a chase for a $20,000 first prize.

He and Bob Verwey, 26, of Johannesburg, South Africa and Labron Harris, 25, son of Oklahoma State's golf coach, headed the first round Thursday on Beverly Country Club's par 71 battleground with 66's.

Verwey, brother-in-law of Gary Player and runner-up in last week's Minnesota Classic, credited a new putting grip in a 27-putt performance.

Stanton, whose best finish on the PGA tour so far has been a tie for seventh in the Flint Open, said "I just putted well and was rewarded." He required 28 taps on the greens.

Harris, the 1962 National Amateur champion who never has been better than a fifth-place finished on the tour, set a PGA putting record for this year. He had nine successive one-putt greens and totalled 25 putts for the distance.

Yastrzemski Shoots Down Another Runner As Red Sox Grab Victory

By The Associated Press

The shotgun Carl Yastrzemski calls an arm has claimed another victim and that makes five base runners in 10 days who've learned the hard way that the Boston slugger can field and throw as well as he can hit.

Yaz threw out Mike Hershberger trying to score in the sixth inning Thursday and then the Red Sox rallied for three runs in thir half and a 5-3 victory over Kansas City. That cut one half game off Chicago's wamerican League lead and left the Sox two games behind.

Dave Morehead, who hurled five shutout innings to pick up the victory against the A's, marvelled at Yastrzemski's throw.

"I told him he can throw strikes from left field better then I can from the mound," Morehead said, grinning.

Hershberger, who had doubled with two out, tried to score on Dick Green's hit but Yastrzemski nailed him. It was the ninth assist this season for Yaz and his fifth in Boston's 12-game home stand which ended Thursday.

In the only other American League game Thursday, Detroit blanked Baltimore 5-0 on Denny McLain's three-hitter. In the onl National League game played, Atlanta bombed Chicago with seven homers and ripped the Cubs 10-3.

Yastrzemski, who leads the league in runs batted in with 78, upped his batting average to .321—third best in the league—with two hits. He doubled in the third and came in on George Scott's single as Boston pecked away at Kansas City's early 3-0 lead.

Mike Andrews was the Red Sox' other hero. He drove in three runs with a homer and a two-run single.

Joe Torre and Clete Boyer led Atlanta's homer spree against the Cubs with two apiece. Hank Aaron, Tito Francona and Denis Menke also connected.

Torre also doubled, singled and walked for a perfect day, scoring three runs and driving in two.

Aaron's homer was his 27th of the year and gave the veteran Braves' slugger his 1,500th careerRBI.

The loss dropped the slumping Cubs six full games back of first place St. Louis in the National League race.

Varnum Plans Fishery Study

State Rep. Charles H. Varnum (R-Manistique) has asked the Legislature to embark on an in-depth study of the commercial fishing industry in Michigan.

Varnum has introduced a resolution which, if approved, would establish an eight-member House-Senate special committee to make a survey of the current status of the industry, and then report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature.

The resolution points out that commercial fishing, once a major industry in the state, has suffered a steady decline over recent years.

Varnum said that it is his opinion that there is room in Great Lakes waters for both the commercial and sport fishermen. In view of the need, he added, to continue to supply fresh-water fish for the tables of Michigan families, the special legislative study of commercial fishing is needed.

One of the major aims of the study, said Varnum, would be to give the Legislature a comprehensive insight into the plans of the State Conservation Department in regard to commercial and sport fishing.

"I think the state legislature," Varnum concluded, "has a responsibility to preserve a fair balance on the Great Lakes for commercial and recreational fishermen, and to see that neither group has an unfair advantage in the use of Michigan's abundant resources."

Old TV Shows Get New Look

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — During television's long, hot summer of reruns, programs are overhauled, repairs are made and remodeling undertaken. It can be as drastic as replacing a lead or as minor as capping the star's teeth.

Changing is inevitable on successes. Children outgrow their parts. Actors get restless or stale and depart. Formats as well as sets get shabby from overuse.

Come September, many of the old shows will have new looks.

"Mission: Impossible," on CBS will arrive with a new head man. Steven Hill, who used to head the cloak-and-dagger teams, disappears and in his place appears Peter Graves, tall, husky real-life brother of "Gunsmoke" star James Arness.

Reef Up Bonanza

Efram Zimbalist Jr., senior agent of ABC's "The FBI," will have a new young partner played by William Reynolds. Stephen Brooks, who helped round up the public enemies for two seasons, is awaiting his call to arms from another branch of government.

"Bonanza," on NBC, was loping along at the head of the television pack until it encountered CBS's Smothers Brothers at midseason. Its producers have decided it is time for some reinforcement. Thus there will be a new character, played by handsome, young David Canary. It marks the first change on the Ponderosa since Pernell Roberts quit several seasons back.

Napoleon Solo of NBC's "The Man from U.N.C.L.E." will cease his compulsive philandering and settle down at the start of the season, anyway to dates with one girl, the boss' secretary, played by Barbara Moore.

New Batgirl

The new batgirl to be Batman helping out Batman and Robin on ABC. Dale Robertson will be casting interested glances at Ellen McRae, and Old West career girl, when he's not busily salvaging ABC's "Iron Horse."

Hermione Baddeley, a fine British comedienne, will join the supernatural group of ABC's "Pewtersed," playing the witchy nanny of the babe who was last season's format-freshener.

Dr. Richard Kimble of "The Fugitive" will cease running and get acquitted of his wife's murder in the final two episodes which ABC will broadcast on Aug. 22 and 29. It will be the first time in any of the series built around a running or searching man that the public learns the outcome.

AWOL Marine Held In Robbery

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A federal warrant has been authorized against a Michigan man in connection with an armed bank robbery here last week, FBI agents said. John C. Berry, 22, of Grand Rapids, was held by authorities in Mansfield, Ohio, where he was arrested Wednesday. The FBI said Berry was AWOL from the Marine Corps and was carrying about $5,000 when picked up.

A lone gunman held up a branch of the Old Kent Bank & Trust Co. of $12,500 last Thursday and fled on foot.

Milk Price Rise Moves Uneven

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The pressure of competition has kept large supermarkets in the Grand Rapids area from raising milk prices. The major markets Thursday were selling milk at prices which did not include the recent hikes in farm milk prices and stores were losing about four-cents on each gallon of milk sold.

Local dairies raised the wholesale and home-delivered prices by one-cent a quart and a number of smaller food stores did the same.

But spokesmen for the major supermarkets said they were waiting for price changes among their competitors before committing themselves.

One store chain, Kroger Co., upped its prices Tuesday but Thursday returned to its July price levels when the competition failed to make the price adjustment.

The big stores failed to agree to price hikes because, as one manager indicated, they might be charged with price fixing. Most of the managers felt the lower prices were only temporary.

Held In Stabbing

IONIA (AP) — Thomas W. Crump, 25, of Muncie, Ind., was held Thursday at the Ionia County jail on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in the stabbing of a barmaid at nearby Saranac.

Crump was bound over to circuit court at his arraignment Wednesday before Justice Arthur Fox. He is held under $10,000 bond.
